

6 September 2017

NEW KLX AEROSPACE SOLUTIONS MIAMI GLOBAL HEADQUARTERS: 2018

We are very pleased to share that KLX Aerospace Solutions will be relocating its global headquarters in Miami, Florida to a new state-of-the-art 550,000+ square foot custom-built office and distribution center. When complete, our Miami facilities will operate from a single location with a fully-automated warehouse and innovative design throughout, and additional capacity to support your business. Our new Warehouse Management System will provide improved service and efficiencies through automation and through combined inventory within a single warehouse location.

NO CHANGES TODAY

Our 10000 N.W. 15th Terrace, Miami, FL 33172 location will transition to 3760 West 108th Street, Miami FL 33018 beginning early 2018, and will continue through the year in a phased process. KLX's current Miami facilities will remain fully operational during this transition with no disruption in service for our customers.

SITE VISITS

We look forward to welcoming our customers and suppliers to the new facility in 2018. Should a site visit be deemed necessary to fulfill your quality requirements, they will be arranged once the move has been completed. The new distribution center will employ the same Quality Management System as our current facility and our current cage code will not change.

We will provide additional communications as the building progresses, including a detailed transition timeline. In the interim, should you have any questions, please contact our Sr. Director of Global Quality, Jason Lewis at +1.305.499.7971.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Terry Bond".

Terry Bond
Vice President, Global Operations and Quality
KLX Aerospace Solutions

